there were fewer serious upper gi adverse experiences and a trend toward a lower incidence of esophageal events in the once-weekly dosing group compared to the daily dosing group the members benefit from ongoing education and training in the areas of mental and physical disabilities