you will usually spend most of the day at the hospital so take a relative or friend to keep you company, or a couple of magazines and a good book to help pass the time.

as you might imagine, a musical featuring a catholic order of nuns calls for a lot of character actors his father states, "john has frequent emotional outbursts and his mood seems to switch from happy to sad rather quickly"